Summary of reasons
for classification:

The publication entitled Finally Legal July 2005 Vol. 7 No. 7 is classified as:
Objectionable.

The publication is classified as objectionable as it promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.

The overriding effect of the magazine is the explicit presentation of very young women in sexually suggestive poses or having sex. Regardless of their actual age they look very young and have clothes and props that are usually associated with children and young persons. These images, and associated text, are designed for the sexual arousal of adult male readers. They unambiguously imply that young persons are acceptable objects of sexual fantasy and legitimate partners for adults in sexual activity. By doing so the magazine promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.

The Classification Office has considered the effects of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 on the application of the classification criteria. The classification interferes with the freedom of expression, but this is an outcome that reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to prevent the availability of publications that promote and support the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes
